info@bpconf.com

The event: BP Translation Conferences have been attracting high-profile freelance translators, interpreters, and agency representatives from around the world since 2014.

The audience: 350+ people are expected from over 40 countries, with about 90% coming from Europe. The most populous age bracket is 30 to 40 years, the majority of attendees have 10-15 years experience. About 80% are freelance translators, 7% are interpreters, 5% are students and faculty members, while some 8% represent translation companies.

The venues: Vienna is a world-class tourist and conference destination. The first day of BP18 will be held in an art deco cinema, while the second day will take place in neighbouring Hotel Marriott in central Vienna.

The atmosphere: BP conferences are known for their unique atmosphere generated by a critical mass of like-minded individuals spending quality time together in a fun setting at a professional environment. Attendees report they can make more meaningful new contacts here than at any other translation-related event.
